Once upon a time Dwight Fiske was taken to a cocktail party and introduced to Tallulah Bankhead as a talented American. Tallulah talloood: "Everyone brings me unknown Americans. Why?" Dwight played for Tallulah who then said: "Dahling! What can I do for you?" Through her he received a two weeks engagement at the Bat Club in London where he was held over for nine months. Thus was launched one of the most fabulous careers in the history of show business. Dwight Fiske has appeared in smart supper clubs the world over where his flashing wit and great talent have established him as one of the great entertainers of our time. Jubilee is privileged to give you . . .

DWIGHT FISKE.
