The pipe organ has been both a challenge and problem to recording engineers for many years. Faithful reproduction demands full range audio equipment and the right selection of material that will "sound" properly for recording and still enable the artist to get the most out of his particular rendition of the song. In this Album no effort was spared to produce the highest audio values without sacrificing a balanced program of good musical taste.

George Montalbo studied piano from the age of seven in his native Lyon, France. He eventually developed a great love for the rich dynamic tones of the pipe organ. Today, while in his early thirties, he has developed an audience of fans throughout France and Belgium. He has played the greatest theatres and houses on the continent, and is playing a tour of the U. S. A. in the spring of 1958.
